Change to Overdraft Posting Order for Commercial Accounts

We're pleased to announce that based on client feedback, we will soon be updating the overdraft posting order on Commercial accounts.

What's changing

Beginning December 8, 2021, if multiple Items are presented for payment against a Commercial account, and the account has an insufficient Available Balance to pay all of these Items, any "other debits" will be posted in the order of lowest dollar amount to highest dollar amount. Doing so will allow us to post the greatest number of debit transactions while reducing the number of debits returned.

For more details, see our Commercial Account Rules:

[Fifth Third] Bank will post Items and other debits to your Account and pay them as follows: Bank will first post all deposits made prior to the end-of-day cutoff time; next, Bank will post all fees, including but not limited to, any overdraft fees; next, Bank will post ATM and debit card purchases in the order they took place; finally, Bank will post all other debits, including checks, electronic bill payments, wire transfer and ACH debits in the order of lowest amount to highest amount.

To receive a full copy of our Commercial Account Rules, please contact your Fifth Third Relationship Team.

We're here to help
